

ABOUT HANDS-ON-HABITAT

Fontenelle Forest and ParentSavvy.com join together to offer families Hands-on-Habitat

ParentSavvy.com and Fontenelle Forest are pleased to announce a new program — Hands-on-Habitat — for parents and their children under five years of age. Lindsay Cooley, Fontenelle Forest environmental educator, will provide instruction for this monthly event. Hands-on-Habitat will be held the third Friday of each month from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. at Fontenelle Forest.

Registration is free when you use the code "PARENTSAVVY" at ParentSavvy.com/forest

The goal of Hands-on-Habitat is to help families explore the natural world together, by providing fun, experiential learning opportunities in which parents can easily guide their children. In addition to indoor activity, sensory and craft stations, parents will be able to join their children in dramatic play, and even get outside for a short hike or walk.

Look for more exciting events from Fontenelle Forest and ParentSavvy.com.

- March 21 — Welcome to Spring!
- April 18 — Our Pond Pals!
- May 16 — How to Make a Flower!
- August 15 — What a Wild Night!

To learn more about our Hands-on-Habitat events and to register, visit ParentSavvy.com/forest.

About Lindsay Cooley

- Lindsay is an environmental educator at Fontenelle Forest in Bellevue, Neb.
- She was born and raised in Omaha and is happy to be back after spending the past four years interning and working at various nature centers around the country.
- Lindsay has a background in environmental science and is passionate about cultivating a love of the natural world in children and adults alike.
- When she's not cutting out craft materials or taking kids on hikes, Lindsay loves birding, drinking coffee, eating bacon, and hanging out with her husband... preferably all at the same time.

CONTACT

For more information on ParentSavvy.com or expert commentary on parenting issues, please contact us:

Melinda Sommerfeld

402-341-4807 | publicrelations@parentsavvy.com